Newcastle Emlyn is a small town on the banks of the Teifv, nine miles from Cardigan, on the Carmarthenshire border, at a most picturesque part of the river. The Castle, which stands overlooking the river's banks, was originally called Dinas Emlyn, and was rebuilt by Sir Rhys-ap-Thomas, in the reign of Henry VIII., on the site of a more ancient edifice; from this circumstance the name of the town is said to be derived.
